CIRCUIT COURT SESSION SHORT

JURY WAS DISMISSED WITHOUT SERVICE

Circuit court that convened Tuesday afternoon was very short at this term and no jury was impaneled and later dismissed soon after convocation. Circuit Judge Guy E. Smith made short work of the calendar and with exception of a few details finished the work on Tuesday afternoon.

The case of Howard Weller, charged with violation of the liquor law, pleaded guilty at the January term and was out on postponed sentence. On his appearance in court he admitted that he had been intoxicated since being on parole and Judge Smith sentenced him to the reformatory at Ionia for six months, assuring him that he would be able to keep sober at least during that time.

Robert Alexander, also under parole from the January term, where he was found guilty by a jury for violation of the prohibition law, also reported before the court and assured the judge that he had been faithful in his trust and was again paroled to appear in the July term of court.

B. Peter Johnson of Frederic, pleaded guilty to the charge of violation of the prohibition law, and was sentenced to from one to two years at the reformatory at Ionia, with the recommendation of six months. Because of his age Judge Smith stated that he was very reluctant to pass sentence upon him but that the law left no alternative and said that his sentence was the minimum that he was empowered to impose. Mr. Johnson had been convicted on a similar charge a number of years ago.

The civil case, an appeal from Probate court, in the matter of the estate of (Dr.) James A. Leighton, deceased, John Joseph Leighton, contestant and appellant, had been settled out of court and was dismissed without costs.

The civil case of Charles W. Kuehl vs. Thomas E. Douglas, trespass on the case, was dismissed without prejudice and without costs.

The case of the American State Bank vs. James E. Kellogg, foreclosure, was continued.

Lena M. Clothier vs. Ernest E. Clothier, divorce, case was continued. The petition of Oranah B. Fuller, auditor general of Michigan for the sale of certain land for the taxes assessed thereon for the year 1925 and previous years, is pending. Judge Smith stating that decision would be rendered next Monday, at which time a decree will very likely be granted.

The law requires that a decree cannot be granted within three days after the convening of court.

The case of John Brown vs. Leon Babbitt, bill to quiet title, was settled out of court and the case dismissed.

The following juryman reported for service:

Otto McIntyre, Grayling.
Albert Vallad, Maple Forest.
James H. Williams, South Branch.

BETTER HOMES WEEK

APRIL 22 TO 28

LOCAL STORES TO HAVE SPECIAL DISPLAYS

Better Homes Week Observance Meets Ready Response

"Better Homes" week—April 22 to 28—is meeting with ready response from our merchants and citizens generally. Many recall the very interesting display and program that was presented on this theme last year at Temple theatre and appreciate the value of such observance for our community.

This year the program will be changed and instead of holding a central display, the merchants will make special "Better Homes" displays in their own places of business. In fact the cooperation of nearly every institution in Grayling is assured.

The business places will present "Better Homes" displays according to their lines of business. There will be "Better Homes" scenes and posters, special sermons in the churches and programs in the schools.

The Home Nursing class under the direction of Miss Keeran, county nurse, will give demonstrations each morning of the week commencing April 22 from 8 to 3:40 a. m. in their classroom at the school as follows:

Monday—How to give a bed patient a bath in a home—Alice Maloy.
Tuesday—Morning care of a patient in a home—Annabelle Harris.
Wednesday—Giving the baby a bath and dressing it—Ida Canfield.
Thursday—Care of communicable diseases—Rosemond Crall.

Friday—Equipment and care of the sick room, 1st aid kit and bandaging—Beatrice Owens.
Saturday—The Little Mothers League will demonstrate some of the work they have been doing in their classes at the Center. Girls ages from 10 to 12 years.

A farewell address to the club.

The Woman's Club will sponsor the Better Homes Week again this year.

After the business meeting the music committee under the direction of Mrs. Frank Detu and Mrs. Emil Giegling gave a very delightful program.

Saxophone solo—"The World is Waiting for the Sunrise" by Miss Kathryn Brown accompanied on piano by Ann Ingeberg Hanson.

Vocal duet—"Sunshine in Rainbow Valley"—Mrs. Roy Milnes, Mrs. Jarmin.

Vocal solo—"Smilin' Through"—Mrs. Chas. Gothro. Encore—"Lovin' you."

Vocal solo—1st "Star Eyes" 2nd "Robin Sing a Merry Tune"—Mrs. Roy Milnes.

Mrs. Emil Giegling accompanied on the piano.

R. D. BAILEY Laid to Rest

Quite a large number of Grayling people attended the funeral of R. D. Bailey that was held in Gaylord Friday afternoon. The services were held in the Congregational church, Rev. J. W. Greenwood of Michelson Memorial church of Grayling conducted the service and delivered a most impressive funeral sermon.

The church was well filled with guests. The casket was carried by six former co-workers of Mr. Bailey—all agricultural agents. Included in the list was Mr. Carr, state superintendent of County Agricultural agents.

The remains were laid to rest in Fairview cemetery, at Gaylord.

R. D. Bailey

I am distressed for thee, my brother Jonathan; very pleasant thou hast been unto me: thy love was wonderful, passing the love of women.—2 Sam. 1: 26.

Here was a man, sun-crowned: A man who companied with dawns, and flowers and stars;

A man who detected sham, and loved that God Who painted things, not as they seem, but as are.

God has been good to him. Talents Of richer measure than oft be bestowed on men;

Wore his: A keener vision and a more determined will To blaze new trails to glory, and God's secrets scan.

So lived he life in earnest. Heights Of ideals lofty and of hopes not yet attained

Called down to him. He struggled on and up And through the struggle kept his soul unstained.

This death laid claim to him. Afar he saw A promised land of home, and love and peace,

And home he reached, but not an earthly spot. But Heaven made possible through the soul's release.

And so we loved him. Tears be wiped away.

For in a larger sphere, he nobly serves and lives.

Thanks be to God for immortality That smiles at death for all the love he gives.

The Light of the Wild

I have crept away from the maddening crowd To a hill-top crowned with trees; I have sought the heart of the calling wild;

I'm fellow to the breeze! And I'm breathing the silence deep and calm; I'm drinking the stillness sweet.

Alone, Alone, Out from the crowds in the great Alone, Alone, Away from the sweltering heat.

So here I'll stay and rest awhile, And love the Pure and True; The things of life that search one's soul.

From the infinite, tender blue, Clean thoughts that breathe of big worlds.

Pure thoughts that fill the heart With a rapturous music from Somewhere-land.

And make the clouds depart, Sing on sweet birds, from dawn of day

Into the heart of Night, And in my soul, I'll sing with you. For Life in the wild, is Light.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO.

THURSDAY, MARCH 9, 1905

Band concert at the opera house March 10.

C. F. Kelley of Frederic was among our callers Tuesday, jolly as ever.

Victor Berlin has returned from his western trip and reports a most enjoyable time.

The Flagg blacksmith shop is open for business again and you can bring on your work.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. William C. Johnson of Maple Forest, on March 4, 1905, a baby boy.

The family of E. E. Turner left last week to join him in Wisconsin, where it is claimed he is located.

We are in our new office and shall be "at home" as soon as we are thro' with paint, putty and whitewash, all of which is needed for looks, but as it is we are pretty comfortable, thank you.

We believe that Grayling is now entering on an era of unprecedented prosperity. Business already here will be expanded and in our next issue we expect to give details of a new industry, which makes the above assertion an assured fact.

Monday morning's train was delayed this side of Roscommon by the rails spreading. The engine and every coach but two left the track, and it seemed almost a miracle that they were not ditched. No one was hurt except by fright. A train went down from here and brought in the passengers about seven o'clock.

Died—At the home of her father, Thomas Ingle, Thursday, March 2, Mary E. Wheeler, aged 35 years.

The deceased had been a resident of our village for twenty-two years. She leaves two children, with the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ingle, and her sister and three brothers, to mourn her loss. She was an active member of the L. O. T. M. M. and the Loyal Guards. The funeral was conducted from St. Mary's Catholic church, Saturday morning, Assistant Pastor J. J. Riess officiating. The large concourse of people in attendance and the profuse floral offerings attested the personal regard of many friends.

Rev. Wills closed his meetings here last Sunday evening and is this week at Wolverine.

Evangelists Swartz and Fish are holding meetings every evening this week in the M. E. church.

An eight-pound boy came to live with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Moon, March 7. "Grandpa" says it is a full moon.

Miss Teresa Goudrow and Capt. Daniel McFadden of West Bay City were married by Rev. J. J. Riess, at St. Mary's church, Tuesday at 9 a. m. They left for their wedding trip on the afternoon train. The bride will bear with her the best wishes of many friends.

O. F. Barnes has bought 250 head of Hereford steers to start on the ranch in South Branch. Our people and the people of the state will hear from this ranch in a way that will give the lie to the croakers. He will put in two hundred and fifty acres this year to alfalfa and red clover and the legumes of other kinds.

O. F. Barnes of South Branch has bought a thousand pounds of cowpeas which were raised in Ogemaw county, which he will sow this spring on his ranch. He will also put in twenty acres of alfalfa, all of which will be treated with the clover bacteria, which he has arranged for from Washington. Watch them for results.

Elmer Qua of Gaylord has been arrested on suspicion of being the firebug who has cost our neighboring village many thousands of dollars. It seems impossible that one, associated as he is with the best families of the town, can be guilty, but it is said the evidence is strong against him. If guilty he should pay the penalty, and if not we trust the cloud of suspicion will be entirely removed.

The work of Miss Kathryn McPeak, the vocal soloist who is on the program for two numbers, "If I were only you," and "Tennessee," at the concert tomorrow evening, has been spoken of in unusually high terms by musical circles in Bay City, from which place she came to Grayling only a short time ago. Those who have heard her here predict a surprise in store for our musical people.

The matter of transferring the equipment of our fire department from the township to the village has been discussed between the common council and the township board, but no satisfactory decision has so far been reached. It is proposed to allow the people to vote on the question at the township meeting, thinking that it may lead to an amicable settlement of the question. One party contends that the money which has been expended was taken from the township at large when the township, outside of the village, paid more than half the aggregate taxes, and that no one outside of the village has ever had any benefit from it. The others contend that the taxes paid by the village is much the larger amount and that all expense will hereafter have to be met by the village, and that it will be no more than fair that the property be given to the village. So that the question is: "Shall this property be gratuitously transferred to the village or shall the village reimburse the township?"

The bill introduced in the senate by Senator Doherty, incorporating West Branch as a city passed that branch of the legislature without opposition and in a very expeditious manner.

Supervisor Chalker and George F. Owen were in town the last of the week. They want their town divided into two voting precincts, which should be done in the interest of the settlers, especially in towns 27 and 28-1.

Mr. Bradley has finished the story of "My Mamie Rose," and is now reading a few chapters from "Training of Wild Animals," by that prince of trainers, Frank Bostock.

Floyd Taylor, Verna Farrar, Ethel Hoyt, Bertha Woodburn and Laura London, all of whom have been taking normal work, are taking the teachers' examination today.

Geometry is now reviewing for final examination in plane. After taking the test they will take up solid, and hope to make a good start before work closes in June.

Mr. Bradley has taken the seventh grade arithmetic class, which numbers thirty boys and girls. This gives him all the arithmetic work above the sixth grade.

Physics class performed experiments along the line of electroplating Tuesday.

Does it not seem to one not interested that when a young man reaches the high position of senior, that he had ought to lose that childish attribute, fear? Boy, be sure you are right, then go ahead.

The following students in grade five have not been absent or tardy during the month ending March 2:

Margaret Chamberlain, Harry Oaks, Johannes Jorgenson, Bessie McCullough, Olive Sheldon, Eugene Smith, Selwin Dexter, Adolph Peterson and Clifford Hoyt.

One more month and then Easter vacation. After which comes the final spurt and all is over.

Why is one of our teachers so fond of the study of electricity? Ask her.

Mr. Bradley gave the normals a talk on the life and work of Wisconsin's newly elected senator, Robert LaFollette, last Monday.

The political pot is beginning to look warm. The fellow that are looking for town offices are letting their wants be known.

John Failing has been working for his father, John C., the past two weeks.

Mrs. George Bolmore came home from attending her brother's funeral at West Branch last Saturday.

Mrs. R. Hanna, who has been seriously sick the past winter, is slowly improving.

The party that was out sleighing last Wednesday night had to be helped home by one of their neighbors. Quite an accident was averted by so doing, as one of the parties weighed 250 pounds or over.

John Dupree is selling out everything and he intends to move to Longlake, Canada, N. W. T., the first of April, where he intends to go in for spring wheat raising.

Hans Christenson has resigned his position at Christ Peterson's and returned home last Saturday, all ready to commence farming on a large scale.

Herbert Parker, our township treasurer, finished collecting taxes last week. He has made many friends by his businesslike and gentlemanly way of doing things. Vote for him again.

Most of the farmers are wishing the snow to go so they can turn out their cattle as many are buying hay. Put up more hay next time.

The timber thieves have been rustling around quite lively this winter. It seems a shame that something cannot be done to stop the unlawful practice.

One of the many interesting sights of the big city is to see the ironworkers on the great skyscrapers pursuing their dangerous occupation with absolute unconcern. It gives one a thrill to watch one of these fearless workers nonchalantly walk fearlessly across a narrow girder 25 or more stories high, where a slip would inevitably precipitate him to certain death.

The usual reports of spring floods in various parts of the country are now coming in, but this is nothing to the flood of exodus which will be let loose all over the country a few months hence.

Millions of Model T Fords are still in active service

FOR nearly twenty years, the Model T Ford led the motor industry and it still is used by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service today—an indication of their sturdy worth, reliability and economy.

Because of the tremendous investment which people have in these cars and because so many of them will be driven for two, three, and even five more years, the Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts until, as Henry Ford himself says, "the last Model T is off the road."

For the Ford Motor Company has always believed that its full duty consists not only in making a good automobile at a low price, but also in keeping it running efficiently for you as long as possible at a minimum of expense.

No matter where you live, therefore, you can still buy Model T Ford parts with the same assurance as formerly, knowing that they will give you the kind of service you have a right to expect, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

All Ford replacement parts, as you may know, are made of the same materials and in the same way as those from which your car was originally assembled, and are low in price because of the established Ford policy.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T Ford over the longest period of time, we suggest that you take the car to the nearest Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of any replacement parts which may be necessary. You may find that a very small expenditure will maintain the value of your car and will be the means of giving you thousands of miles of additional service.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

ADVISE FIRST AID FOR WINTER GRAIN.

Fertilizers and Soil Culture Aid in Repairing Winter Injuries.

The use of nitrate fertilizers for top dressing fields of winter grain which have suffered winter injury, and the use of the cultipacker roller on such fields are recommended by the Michigan State College.

During backward springs, grain on soils which are high in moisture content cannot get sufficient nitrates from the soil to furnish the food needed for satisfactory growth. The use of sulphate of ammonia or nitrate of soda will enable the plant to obtain food and outgrow the winter injury.

The use of from 60 to 100 pounds of the fertilizer per acre is advised. On acid soils, it may be better to use nitrate of soda rather than sulphate of ammonia. The fertilizers should be applied soon after plant growth starts.

The use of the cultipacker or roller firms the soil and saves many plants that have been partially heaved out. Packing the soil also forces small stones below the surface and may save repair bills at harvesting time.

The firm seed bed made by the cultipacker assists in securing good seedlings of legumes. The seedlings should be made before the soil is packed or rolled down.

Lead arsenate, at least $75,000 worth of it is used annually in New England in the war against the gipsy and brown-tail moths. Lead arsenate is also used against the codling moth, a destructive pest that does damage amounting to $12,000,000 a year in the orchards of the United States.

The respective values of the seed and stem ends of seed potatoes have long been a matter of controversy among potato growers. A study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, based both on practical experiments and on literature on the subject, indicates that there is little difference in the value of the two sets for seed purposes.

Wood ashes, because of the content of potash and lime are of use as early spring fertilizers. The commercial value of such water that it is almost impossible to use them on heavy soils to gather their content of potash and lime, enough grass for the required amount, but nearly all contain enough lime of dry material that is the equivalent of warrant their being considered of winter feeding. Later in the spring among liming materials. Wood and early summer it is more nearly possible if pastures are luxuriant. But as a general rule, it pays to feed grain to the dairy cow on pasture. Cows on pasture producing more than 20 pounds of milk daily should have 1 pound of grain to each four to six pounds of milk produced. Cows producing more than 35 pounds a day should also have added to the ration some high protein concentrate such as linseed-oil meal.

Among good succulent feeds for dairy cows are the sugar beet and mangle, the latter producing a larger tonnage per acre and being more easily cultivated. Mangels should be kept in storage for several weeks before being fed to the cow, as the freshly harvested roots may cause scours. From 50 to 70 pounds of mangels, chopped or sliced can be fed to the cow daily; the amount of roots should be limited to 40 or 40 pounds.

Hints for Liming Soils

Ground limestone may be applied to fields at any time. It does not injure seeds that come in contact with it. Neither does it tend to set free the ammonia in manure that comes in contact with it, so that it is often possible to scatter a suitable amount of ground limestone on a load of manure in the spreader and apply it in this way. It should not be mixed with or applied at the same time as superphosphate, since this tends to bring about a change of the water-soluble phosphorus compound to an insoluble form. Oxide of lime, either in the form of burned lime or slaked lime, requires somewhat more care in application. It should not, especially if it is unslaked, be applied so that it comes in contact with seeds or young plants. Like the ground limestone, it should not be mixed with superphosphate. Neither should it be mixed with stable manure, as this brings about loss of ammonia. Lime may be applied by drilling with a seed drill or by spreading with a manure spreader. Drilling is not a satisfactory method if the lime is not in a proper condition to be uniformly distributed. A manure spreader serves satisfactorily when a thin layer of manure is placed in the bottom and the size of the land regulated according to the quantity to be spread. The practice of placing burned lime in piles in the field and slaking it by the addition of water or allowing it to slake in the air and then spreading by hand is a somewhat common one. This is a disagreeable operation, and uniform distribution is difficult.

Talkers and Doers

Charles A. Lindbergh is doing a lot of flying and very little talking. His attitude recalls the speech made by Wilbur Wright, one of the inventors of the airplane, at a dinner given in honor of the Wright brothers in Paris many years ago when he was doing his first flying in France.

"The Parrot," said Mr. Wright, when he was called on, "is the best talking bird I ever saw. He can talk, but he doesn't do it."—Kansas City Star.

THE national automobile shows in New York and Chicago were too far away for most Americans to attend. But by clipping the coupon below, you can bring a representative automobile show into your home.

At the shows General Motors exhibited a complete line of automobiles — "a car for every purse and purpose."

They are the quality cars of their respective price classes. They range in price at-the-factory from $495 to $5,500. They include 89 models of every type and kind. They embody improvements tested and proved at General Motors' Proving Ground, which, together with the Research Laboratories, is maintained to assure continuous progress.

"A car for every purse and purpose"

The General Motors cars are briefly described below. The new models offer more performance, more comfort, more beauty than ever before in automobile history. All have 4-wheel brakes. All closed bodies are by Fisher. All have Duco finish. All are built of quality materials. And for their convenient purchase, General Motors has provided the standard low-cost GMAC Plan.

(All prices F. O. B. at the factories)

CADILLAC. 26 models, $3295 to $5500. "What," General Motors asked last year, "can possibly be done to improve Cadillac?" The result is embodied in the new models now on display, representing the high-water mark of Cadillac's long history. Sumptuous bodies by Fisher and Fleetwood. 500 color combinations to choose from.

NEW YORK LETTER

That the ways of love are inscrutable was evidenced once more by the suicide of Nan Terry in her luxuriously-furnished apartment in East 59th street, New York, the other day. Beautiful, rich and with a 17-year-old daughter, she seemed to have everything to make life attractive. But another man came into her life and her home ties became unbearable. Realizing that a romance with "the other man" was hopeless, she decided to make her final exit, which she did by swallowing six bichloride of mercury tablets.

An actress noted for her beauty recently engaged a youthful and susceptible press agent, who immediately became smitten. The fair one's fiancée, noting the ardor of the young scribe, thus politely cautioned him: "You're a nice kid and I'd like to see you get along, but if you can't keep your distance I'll have to beat your block off and hire another press agent."

The actress and her young press agent now conduct their business over the telephone.

If the expectations of Lester J. Hinderhot, the young inventor, are realized, his new electro-magnetic motor will revolutionize the automotive machinery of the world.

It is said that the new engine we shall find "what the world has been waiting for," the possibilities of the future will be limitless.

The new Hannah Lavinsky House, a home for working girls, now being built in East 10th street, New York, will be the last word in completeness of equipment and comfort. Every room of the eight-story building will be sunny and handsomely furnished. There will be clubrooms, schoolrooms, a chapel and a restaurant. The rates will be from $5 to $10 weekly for board and room. The building is being constructed by the Hannah L. Lavinsky Foundation as a means of providing comfortable quarters at little cost for deserving working girls.

A young child, a two-year infant, named George, usually the other day, its advent was heralded as a sign of approach to spring. Why the child was selected that particular day cannot be explained except from the fact that the child was named George, or was afflicted with some ailment. If the child's name is George, it is a coincidence, which is a fact that is never to be forgotten.

Paris has one drinking place for every seven or eight inhabitants, and yet a drunken man is rarely seen.

CONSERVATION ITEMS OF INTEREST

During the past two weeks, approximately 25,000 citizens in fifteen Michigan cities and towns have viewed the Department of Conservation wild-life and outdoors films and listened to the accompanying lectures given by Staff Photographers, James McGilivray and Walter Hastings, according to George R. Hogarth, Acting Director.

"So popular has this branch of our service become," states Mr. Hogarth, "that we are often unable to meet all requests. It is not uncommon for Mr. Hastings or Mr. McGilivray to be booked solidly for an entire month ahead. Letters of commendation regarding the nature and lectures are coming to the Department by the score, and it is our plan to eventually show these films to every man, woman and child in the State. Schools, sportsmen's groups, women's clubs, and other civic organizations are availing themselves of this opportunity for entertainment and conservation information. There is no charge for this service.

Of the more than one million acres of land owned by the State, but 200,000 acres are in intensively worked State Forests and the greater share of this as well as the greater share of the remainder is available for hunting and other recreational uses.

At the present time the Department of Conservation has six major standard game refuges in operation, covering approximately 60,000 acres, surrounding all newer refuge units are public hunting grounds which add up to about 75,000 acres. For the most part, this land was purchased by the State through tax delinquency, the balance having been purchased by money from game fund or by low valuations as assessed for taxation.

The average annual production of pine-nick pheasants and eggs from the State Game Farm is 6,000 birds and 30,000 eggs.

The Department of Conservation plans soon to issue a complete set of rules and regulations governing the use and occupancy of State land, and will particularly stress the importance of one having to do with the disposal of refuse and rubbish after camping or other occupancy. This, to a large extent, will do away with unsightly abandoned camp sites of those using State lands for camping, picnicking or other recreational uses. Act 17 of the Public Acts of 1921, as amended by Act 337, Public Acts of 1927, gives the Department authority to make such rules and regulations, the violation of which is a misdemeanor and punishable by fine or imprisonment.

According to P. J. Hoffmaster, State Sup't. of Parks, "The policy of putting park caretakers in uniforms has been satisfactory. Campers and tourists in State Parks can readily identify the uniformed caretakers and Park rules and regulations have been easier to enforce than before."

Conservation and service has been the practice and watchword of these people who come from every State in the Union. Although more than five million people visited our State Parks last year and availed themselves of the many opportunities for their enjoyment and recreation, we predict that the coming year will see more people using our park systems than ever before.

WHERE BORER WILL BE FOUGHT THIS SPRING

The European corn borer quarantined for 1923 covers 32 entire counties and parts of five others. The shaded and darkened portions indicate the yearly spread of the borer and represent also the area which is required to be cleaned up prior to May 1, according to State regulations.

President Greeley School of Electricity and Automotive Trade, Chicago, turned over the same route and rescheduled the party that had remained behind, and which included women and children. Before civilization was reached, however, of the more than 40 who left the main caravan at Mount Meadows, thirty-four had perished.
